2 Day Professional Learning Program

The two-day professional learning program is a workshop designed to benefit teachers working directly with students on the autism spectrum.

We know that the best educational outcomes for autistic students are enhanced when:

- a strong, positive relationship exists between home and school
- teachers feel confident in their knowledge and understanding of autism
- classroom and school environments reflect the unique needs of autistic students

A small funding allocation is available to support schools' participation in the program.

If you think this program may be suitable for your school and you want to find out more, please contact:

“ I am a new teacher (3rd year of teaching) and this professional learning workshop gave me loads of insight into how to support students on the spectrum and resources to implement into my teaching. The presenters were engaging and supportive, and the space felt safe and comfortable. Thank you for your teachings! **”
