

My Child's Story Circle

Our young people on the spectrum are all different. This circle helps us to think about six areas that important in understanding the strengths and support needs of our young people. These strengths and support needs can look different at home, in the community and at school.